What Does a Sleep Lab Do?

A Sleep Lab is set up to investigate and diagnose sleep disorders. This requires that you sleep for one night in a private room where staff can monitor your sleep stages, breathing patterns, limb movements and oxygen levels. Monitoring is done through attachment of small electrodes onto the surface of the skin as well as audio and video monitors. Our Lab has the latest in sleep technology equipment and is staffed by experienced and caring Registered Polysomnographic Technologists (RPSGT) who are monitoring throughout the night.

Sleep Lab Appointment Information

- Please arrive in CardioRespiratory no later than 8:15 pm.
- Use the phone on the counter to let the technologist know you have arrived.
- Expect to go to bed by 10:00 p.m.
- The technologist will wake you at 5:00 a.m. and you will be discharged at 5:30 am.
